Fashion Watch... The shops are now swollen with Summer stock – superb patterns, and a blend of inspiring brights and the cool earthier tones. Moving into a new season, we are typically asked how to shift one's makeup look to the changed lighting over the sunnier months and the new Summer colour palettes.

- Add a touch of bronzer to your foundation shade for a hint of a suntan.
- Use a slightly brighter or deeper version of your favourite lippy shades.
- Try subtle gilding on lips, eyes or cheeks, especially for night, with little silver or gold powders or pencils.
- Include a little orange to echo Summer's hottest shade. Coral, bright tangerine, or bronze can be applied sparingly or full-on over lips, eyes, nails and cheeks. If unsure, try wearing orange based shades away from the face, on nails or in fashion accessories.
- When very humid, dust face lightly with Musq foundation powder over your crème.
- Use a dot of a bright eyeshadow at the outer eyelid blending well into a neutral base shade. This will tie in with bright clothing without making eyes look too outrageous.
